- Rounded box at top (lavender fill, 15% opacity) for header
- Content in simple bullet format NO walls of text

Content:

HOW TO USE THIS PLANNER
(The ADHD-Friendly Way)

Hey there, beautiful brain.

This planner was made for people who've tried every budgeting app, spreadsheet, and envelope system... and abandoned them all by Day 3.

Here's the thing: you're not bad with money. Your brain just needs a different system.

HERE ARE THE ONLY RULES:

Done beats perfect. A half-filled page is better than a blank one.

Use pencil. You'll change your mind. That's fine.

Only 5 spending categories. Seriously. Five. Not fifteen.

One line per day for tracking. That's it. One line.

Skip pages you don't need. There's no planner police.

Celebrate every tiny win. Paid a bill on time? CHAMPION.

WHAT'S INSIDE:

Monthly Budget Overview	Pages 6-17
Weekly Spending Tracker	Pages 18-21
Bill Pay Command Center	Pages 22-23
Impulse Spending Tools	Pages 24-26
Savings & Debt Visual Trackers	Pages 27-30
Annual Overview & Reflection	Pages 31-35

Print the pages you want. Ignore the rest.

Your brain, your rules.

Design Notes:

- Keep whitespace generous between bullets
- Checkmarks in sage green
- Emojis optional (replace with simple line icons if preferred)
- Bottom: small sage green heart

Layout:

- Header with title in rounded sage green box
- Three large input boxes (stacked vertically, each takes ~25% of page)
- Simple, unintimidating only 3 numbers to fill in

Content:

MY MONEY SNAPSHOT

Let's start with just THREE numbers. That's it. Three.

MY MONTHLY INCOME (after taxes)

Steady paycheck Variable/freelance
Multiple sources I'm honestly not sure

MY FIXED BILLS (total of all monthly bills)

$ _____

(Rent + utilities + subscriptions + insurance
+ minimum debt payments + phone)

WHAT'S LEFT (Income minus Fixed Bills)

This is what you actually get to DECIDE about.
That's your "choice money." Let's make it work.

Not sure about the numbers? Guess. Seriously.
A rough guess is 1000% better than not starting at all.

Design Notes:

- Boxes have rounded corners, light gray (#F5F5F5) fill
- Each box has a subtle colored left border (green, lavender, coral)
- Writing lines inside boxes are dotted (not solid) for a softer feel
- Bottom motivational text in italic, smaller font

PAGE 4 MY 5 CATEGORIES

Layout:

- Header in rounded lavender box
- 5 large numbered boxes for writing categories
- Reference list of common categories on the right side (or below)

Content:

MY 5 SPENDING CATEGORIES

Pick ONLY five. I know, it feels weird. But fewer categories = less overwhelm = you'll actually track things.

YOUR FIVE:

1. _____
(example: food & groceries)

2. _____
(example: transportation)

3. _____
(example: fun & entertainment)

4. _____
(example: personal & self-care)

5. _____
(example: everything else)

NEED IDEAS? Here are common categories to choose from:

Food/Groceries	Gas/Transport	Fun/Entertainment
Clothing	Health/Medical	Pets
Gifts	Education	Fitness/Gym
Personal Care	Coffee/Dining Out	Home Stuff
Kids	Subscriptions	Self-Care

TIPS FOR CHOOSING:

"Groceries" and "eating out" can be ONE category (Food). Simpler.

Having a "Fun Money" category means you PLAN for joy no guilt.

"Everything else" is a totally valid category. Use it.

You can change these next month. Nothing is permanent.

Design Notes:

- Numbered boxes are large (at least 0.5" height) with dotted writing lines
 - Category suggestion grid in a light gray rounded box
 - Each icon/category in its own small pill-shaped badge
 - Keep overall page feeling spacious, not cramped

PAGE 5 MY FINANCIAL GOALS (Visual Thermometers)

Layout:

- Header in coral rounded box
- Three vertical thermometer/progress bars side by side
- Each has a goal name line, target amount, and fill-in sections

Content:

MY FINANCIAL GOALS

Pick up to 3 things you're working toward. Big or small all goals count.

GOAL #1	GOAL #2	GOAL #3
Short-term	Medium-term	Long-term (dream!)
_____	_____	_____
(goal name)	(goal name)	(goal name)
Target: $_____	Target: $_____	Target: $_____
100%	100%	100%
75%	75%	75%
50%	50%	50%
25%	25%	25%
START	START	START

Color in or mark your progress as you save!

Each section = 25% of your goal. You've got this.

GOAL IDEAS (if you're stuck):

Emergency fund ($500-1000)	Pay off a credit card
Vacation/trip fund	New laptop/phone
Move to a new place	Start a business
Holiday gift fund	"F it" freedom fund

Design Notes:

- Thermometers are tall (4-5"), rounded at bottom, with segmented sections
- Each thermometer has its own accent color (green, lavender, coral)
- Sections are separated by dotted lines for easy "fill in" tracking

- Goal ideas at bottom in a subtle rounded box
- The asterisk in "F* it" can be changed to "Freedom fund" for brand safety

PAGES 6-17 MONTHLY BUDGET OVERVIEW (12 identical pages, one per month)

Layout (each page is identical user writes in the month):

- Header with month write-in and motivational micro-quote
- Three sections stacked: Income, Fixed Bills, Variable Spending
- Bottom bar: visual "How'd I do?" meter

Content (template for each of the 12 monthly pages):

MONTH: _____ YEAR: _____

"Progress, not perfection."

INCOME THIS MONTH

Paycheck / Source 1: $ _____

Side income / Source 2: $ _____

Other: $ _____

HOW DID I DO?

Income: $ _____ Fixed: $ _____ Variable: $ _____ = Left over: $ _____

[_____]
 OVER BUDGET ON TRACK SURPLUS

One thing I'm proud of this month: _____

Design Notes:

- Monthly pages have a subtle colored tab on the right edge (alternating green/lavender/coral) so users can find months quickly when printed
- Checkboxes for fixed bills provide dopamine satisfaction
- The "How did I do?" bar is a visual slider user can circle or color where they landed
- Bottom "proud of" line reinforces positive self-talk
- Each month gets a DIFFERENT micro-quote at the top:

12 Monthly Quotes (one per page):

- "Progress, not perfection."
 - "You showed up. That counts."
 - "Small steps still move you forward."
 - "Your best is enough."
 - "Money is a tool, not a measure of your worth."
 - "Every expert was once a beginner."
 - "You're doing better than you think."
 - "Consistency isn't about never missing it's about always returning."
 - "Financial peace is possible for you."
 - "You deserve to feel calm about money."
 - "Almost there. Keep going."
 - "Look how far you've come."

PAGES 18-21 WEEKLY SPENDING TRACKER (4 pages, one per week)

Layout:

- Simple table format ONE LINE PER DAY
- Minimal columns to reduce overwhelm
- "Vibe check" at end of week

Content (template for each of 4 weekly pages):

WEEKLY SPENDING TRACKER

Week of: _____ to _____

Keep it simple: ONE LINE per day. What you spent on, how much, and whether it was a NEED or a WANT. No judgment either way.

DAY	WHAT I SPENT ON	AMOUNT	NEED/WANT
Monday	_____	$ _____	N	W
Tuesday	_____	$ _____	N	W
Wednesday	_____	$ _____	N	W
Thursday	_____	$ _____	N	W
Friday	_____	$ _____	N	W
Saturday	_____	$ _____	N	W
Sunday	_____	$ _____	N	W

WEEKLY TOTAL: $ _____

"Wants" total: $ _____ (not bad wants aren't evil!)

"Needs" total: $ _____

WEEKLY VIBE CHECK:

How do I feel about my spending this week?

Great Fine Meh Stressed Frustrated

One sentence about this week: _____

REMEMBER: "Wants" are part of a healthy budget.

Joy isn't a luxury it's a need your ADHD brain requires.

The goal is AWARENESS, not restriction.

Design Notes:

- Table rows have alternating very light gray (#FAFAFA) and white backgrounds
- "Need/Want" checkboxes are small and unobtrusive
- The emoji "vibe check" can be replaced with simple face line drawings
- Bottom message in a soft green rounded box
- Each of the 4 weekly pages is identical in layout (user picks which week)

PAGES 22-23 BILL PAY COMMAND CENTER

Layout:

- Full-page table with all monthly bills
- Large checkboxes for satisfaction of marking "PAID"
- Auto-pay indicator column

Content:

BILL PAY COMMAND CENTER

Never miss a bill again. List them ALL here, then check them off each month.

(Pro tip: Set up auto-pay for everything you can. Future you will thank you.)

[illegible]

_____	$ _____	____/month	Yes
_____	$ _____	____/month	Yes
_____	$ _____	____/month	Yes
_____	$ _____	____/month	Yes

TOTAL MONTHLY BILLS: $ _____

The 12 small checkboxes across = one for each month of the year.

Fill them in as you pay! Watch the row fill up. Satisfying, right?

Design Notes:

- The 12 small PAID checkboxes across each row represent Jan-Dec
- Column headers have month abbreviations (J F M A M J J A S O N D) in tiny text
- Rows have alternating light backgrounds
- Auto-pay column in sage green when checked

PAGE 23 Bill Calendar Visual

Layout:

- Monthly calendar grid (blank/undated)
- User writes in bill due dates
- Provides visual "when is money leaving" awareness

Content:

BILL DUE DATE CALENDAR

Write your bill due dates on the calendar below. Seeing WHEN money leaves helps your ADHD brain prepare instead of being surprised.

SUN MON TUE WED THU FRI SAT

COLOR CODE:

Auto-pay (set it and forget it)

Manual pay (set a phone alarm!)

Late fee risk (pay this FIRST)

MY "DANGER ZONE" DAYS:

(Days when multiple bills hit at once)

Design Notes:

- Calendar cells are large enough to write bill names (at least 1" x 1")
 - Light gridlines, not heavy borders
 - Color code dots can be simple circles to color in
 - "Danger zone" section at bottom helps identify cash-flow crunch days

PAGES 24-26 IMPULSE SPENDING TOOLS

PAGE 24 The 24-Hour Pause Page

Layout:

- Large, centered "STOP" style header (coral accent)
- Simple decision tree/flowchart format
- Designed to interrupt the impulse buying cycle

Content:

THE 24-HOUR PAUSE

You want to buy something. That's okay.

Let's just... pause for a second. Breathe.

Answer these questions BEFORE you click "Buy Now":

WHAT IS IT? _____

HOW MUCH? $ _____

WHERE DID I SEE IT? Social media Email In store Friend Ad

THE PAUSE QUESTIONS:

1. Do I need this, or do I want the FEELING of buying it?
Need it Want the feeling Honestly not sure
2. Will I remember this purchase in 2 weeks?
Yes Probably not
3. If I wait 24 hours, will I still want it?
Probably Probably not Let me find out...
4. Can I afford this WITHOUT dipping into bill money?
Yes No Barely
5. What triggered this urge? (circle one)
Boredom | Stress | Sadness | Social media | Celebration | Habit

COME BACK TOMORROW. If you still want it after 24 hours, you can buy it guilt-free. You made a CHOICE, not an impulse.

24 HOURS LATER...

Still want it Buy it! You earned this intentional purchase.
Forgot about it Saved money without even trying!
Found something better Nice.

MONEY SAVED BY PAUSING: $_____ Write this down. It adds up.

Design Notes:

- Coral/red accent on the "STOP" header attention-grabbing
- Decision flow reads naturally top to bottom
- Checkboxes keep it interactive and low-effort
- "Come back tomorrow" section clearly separated (different background color)
- Celebratory tone when they DON'T buy reframes saving as winning

Layout:

- Tracking table no shame, just awareness
- Space for 10 impulse purchase entries
- Pattern recognition section at bottom

Content:

IMPULSE SPENDING LOG

No shame. Just awareness. Track your impulses to find YOUR patterns.

DATE	ITEM/PURCHASE	COST	TRIGGER	REGRET? (1-5)
_____	_____	$ _____	_____
_____	_____	$ _____	_____
_____	_____	$ _____	_____
_____	_____	$ _____	_____

_____	_____	$ _____	_____

TOTAL IMPULSE SPENDING: $ _____

PATTERN SPOTTING:

My most common trigger: _____

Time of day I'm most vulnerable: _____

My average impulse purchase: $ _____

What I notice: _____

COMMON TRIGGERS (for the "trigger" column):

Bored | Stressed | Sad | Celebrating | Late night | Social media |

Payday high | Overwhelmed | Procrastinating | Peer pressure

Design Notes:

- "Regret" rating uses star outlines (1-5) to circle/fill keeps it light
 - Trigger column is narrow (one-word entries expected)
 - Pattern section at bottom in a sage green rounded box
 - Emphasize "no shame" in the header design non-judgmental tone throughout

PAGE 26 My Dopamine Menu (Alternatives to Spending)

Layout:

- Fun, colorful page most visually engaging page in the planner
- Grid/list of free/cheap dopamine alternatives
- Space for personal additions

Content:

MY DOPAMINE MENU

When you feel the urge to spend, grab a hit from this menu instead.

Your brain wants dopamine not stuff. Give it what it actually needs.

FREE DOPAMINE:

Take a walk outside
Call a friend
Take a hot shower/bath
Dance to 3 songs
Reorganize one drawer
Watch a comfort show
Stretch for 10 minutes
Play with a pet
Scroll Pinterest (window shop!)
Journal for 5 minutes
Start a puzzle
Make a playlist

CHEAP DOPAMINE (under $5):

Fancy coffee/tea
New lip balm or candle
Rent a movie
Dollar store treasure hunt
New stickers or pens
Bake something
Fresh flowers
Magazine
New nail polish
Nice fruit or snack
Thrift store browse
Face mask

MY PERSONAL DOPAMINE HITS (add your own!):

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

REMEMBER: Shopping gives you dopamine for 5 minutes.

These give you dopamine WITHOUT the guilt hangover after.

Pro tip: Screenshot this page on your phone. Pull it up when you're standing in Target or scrolling Amazon at 2am.

Design Notes:

- This page gets MORE color than others coral and lavender pill-shaped badges for items
 - Two-column layout for the lists
 - Checkboxes so users can try things and check them off
 - Fun/playful energy contrast to the more structured budget pages
 - This page often gets shared on social media = FREE marketing (make it Instagram-worthy)

PAGES 27-30 SAVINGS & DEBT VISUAL TRACKERS

PAGES 27-29 Savings Goal Thermometers (3 pages, one per goal)

Layout (identical for all 3 pages, different accent color each):

- Large vertical thermometer in center of page (8" tall)
- Goal details at top
- Increment markers on the side
- Celebration section at top when complete

Content (template for each of 3 savings pages):

SAVINGS GOAL TRACKER

MY GOAL: _____

DEPOSITS LOG:

Date: _____ Amount: $ _____ | Date: _____ Amount: $ _____

Date: _____ Amount: $ _____ | Date: _____ Amount: $ _____

Date: _____ Amount: $ _____ | Date: _____ Amount: $ _____

Design Notes:

- Page 27 thermometer: sage green fill color
- Page 28 thermometer: lavender fill color
- Page 29 thermometer: coral fill color
- Thermometer has rounded bottom (like a real thermometer bulb)
- 10 segments with dotted lines between them
- User fills in dollar amounts on the right side for their specific goal
- "Goal Reached!" celebration burst at top with confetti/stars decoration
- Deposit log at bottom for tracking individual contributions

PAGE 30 Debt Payoff Visual Tracker

Layout:

- Grid of circles to cross off (like a visual countdown)
- Debt details at top
- Each circle = one payment made

Content:

DEBT PAYOFF TRACKER

I'M PAYING OFF: _____

TOTAL OWED: $ _____ MINIMUM PAYMENT: $ _____

MY PAYMENT PLAN: $_____ per week bi-weekly month

TOTAL PAYMENTS TO FREEDOM: _____ payments

Cross off, color in, or X each circle as you make a payment.
Watch your debt SHRINK. Every circle is a victory.

(1-10)
(11-20)
(21-30)
(31-40)
(41-50)
(51-60)

MILESTONES TO CELEBRATE:

25% paid off! ($_____ gone!) Treat: _____
50% HALFWAY! ($_____ gone!) Treat: _____
75% Almost there! ($_____ gone!) Treat: _____
100% DEBT FREE! BIG Treat: _____

REMEMBER: Paying the minimum IS progress.
Extra payments are bonuses, not obligations.
You're doing something most people avoid entirely. Be proud.

Design Notes:

- 60 circles arranged in 6 rows of 10 (user only uses as many as needed)
- Circles are large enough to satisfyingly cross off (0.4" diameter)
- Milestone section uses coral accent for celebration energy
- "Treat" lines encourage healthy self-reward (preventing deprivation burnout)
- Circles could be slightly colored (very light lavender) to distinguish from page

PAGES 31-35 ANNUAL OVERVIEW & REFLECTION

PAGE 31 Annual Income vs. Expenses Overview

Layout:

- 12-month grid/table
- Simple: Month | Income | Expenses | Difference
- Running total at bottom

Content:

ANNUAL OVERVIEW

Fill this in at the end of each month. By December, you'll have a complete picture of your financial year. (Even if you miss months partial data is still useful data!)

December	$ _____	$ _____	$ _____

YEARLY TOTAL $ _____ $ _____ $ _____

My highest-earning month: _____

My highest-spending month: _____

Months I stayed on track: _____ out of 12 (even 3 is great!)

Design Notes:

- Clean table with alternating row backgrounds
 - "Leftover" column in sage green when positive, coral when negative (B&W version: just +/- indicator)
 - Bottom reflection section in subtle rounded box
 - Emphasize that partial completion still counts

PAGE 32 Money Wins Celebration Page

Layout:

- Fun, celebratory design most "joyful" page in the planner
- Space to write financial victories of any size
- Decorative confetti/stars border

Content:

MY MONEY WINS

Every win counts. EVERY. SINGLE. ONE.

Paid a bill on time? WIN. Resisted an impulse buy? WIN.

Checked your bank balance without crying? MASSIVE WIN.

Write them all here. Come back and read these when you need a boost.

[illegible]

"You are not behind. You are not broken.
You are building something new at your own pace."

Design Notes:

- Star icons in alternating green/lavender/coral
- More decorative than other pages subtle confetti pattern in background
- Writing lines are generous (0.4" spacing)
- This page is designed to be shared on social media = marketing potential
- Quote at bottom in elegant script/italic

PAGE 33 What I Learned About My ADHD & Money

Layout:

- Reflection/journal page
- 3 guided prompts with large writing spaces
- Contemplative, gentle design

Content:

WHAT I LEARNED ABOUT MY ADHD & MONEY

Take a moment to reflect. You've gathered real data about yourself.
What patterns do you see? What surprised you?

1. "My ADHD shows up in my finances by..."

2. "Something that actually WORKED for me was..."

3. "Next time, I want to try..."

PATTERNS I'VE NOTICED:

My biggest spending trigger: _____

The time of month I overspend: _____

What helps me stay on track: _____

What causes me to abandon tracking: _____

This awareness alone is powerful. You can't change what you can't see.

Now you can see it and that's half the battle.

Design Notes:

- Lavender accent for this reflective section
- Writing spaces are extra generous (multiple lines per question)
- Gentle, introspective tone
- No table/grid format more journaling/freeflow feel

PAGE 34 Simple Net Worth Tracker

Content:

MY NET WORTH SNAPSHOT

(Simpler than it sounds just what you OWN minus what you OWE)

WHAT I OWN (Assets):

Checking account(s): $ _____

Savings account(s): $ _____

Retirement (401k/IRA): $ _____

WHAT I OWE (Debts):

Credit card(s): $ _____

Student loans: $ _____

Car loan: $ _____

Personal loan: $ _____

Medical debt: $ _____

Other: $ _____

TOTAL DEBTS: $ _____

NET WORTH = Assets - Debts = $ _____

Positive (nice!) Negative (that's okay you have a plan now)

DATE: ____/____/____

Check again in 6 months. It WILL change. Even $1 in the right direction is momentum.

PAGE 35 Next Year's Focus (Final Page)

Content:

LOOKING AHEAD

You did something amazing this year you TRIED.

Now let's set intentions (not rigid goals) for next year.

MY 3 FINANCIAL INTENTIONS FOR NEXT YEAR:

1. _____

Why this matters: _____

2. _____

Why this matters: _____

3. _____

Why this matters: _____

ONE HABIT I WANT TO BUILD:

(Small. Tiny. Like "check my bank balance every Monday.")

ONE THING I'M LETTING GO OF:

(Guilt? Comparison? A subscription I don't use? Perfectionism?)

A LETTER TO FUTURE ME:

Dear Future Me,

You showed up. You tried. That's more than most people do.
Whatever happened you kept going. And that's everything.

See you next year, beautiful brain.

THE END

Thank you for using this planner!
Made with love by FocusFlow Prints
focusflowprints.etsy.com

Design Notes:

- Final page has a warm, closing feel
 - Slightly more decorative than other pages (it's a conclusion)
 - Brand footer at bottom (subtle not salesy)
 - "Letter to Future Me" section is emotionally resonant gets shared on social media
 - Consider adding a small QR code linking to review page (if desired)

HOW TO PRINT YOUR ADHD BUDGET PLANNER

Hi! Here's how to get the best results:

AT HOME:

- Use standard 8.5" x 11" paper (US Letter) or A4
- Print at "Actual Size" (not "Fit to Page")
- Use the B&W version to save ink
- Cardstock for cover page looks nice (optional)
- Hole-punch and put in a binder, or staple/clip together

AT A PRINT SHOP (Staples, Office Depot, FedEx):

- Upload the PDF and select "US Letter"
- Choose "single-sided" printing
- Ask for cardstock cover + spiral binding ($3-5 extra)
- This makes it feel like a "real" planner!

TIPS:

- You DON'T have to print every page!
- Print only the sections you'll use
- Reprint monthly pages as needed (that's why it's undated!)
- Keep the PDF on your phone/tablet for reference
