

ADHD GOAL SETTING WORKBOOK

Dream Big, Plan Small, Actually Follow Through

By Daniel Tesfamariam | FocusFlow Prints

WHY GOALS FEEL IMPOSSIBLE WITH ADHD

It's not willpower. It's executive function + dopamine.

ADHD goal-setting challenges:

- We set too many goals (shiny new goal syndrome)
- We skip from 'idea' to 'done' without planning the middle
- We lose interest once novelty wears off
- We feel shame about 'failed' goals and stop trying

THIS workbook fixes these with:

- Only 3 goals at a time (max!)
- 90-day sprints (not annual goals)
- Built-in 'is this still interesting?' checks
- Permission to pivot (goal funeral included)
- Micro-steps focus (what's the TINIEST first action?)
